NCS has more qualified applicants each year than openings in most grades and cannot guarantee enrollment or wait list position strictly by date of application. NCS considers many factors when accepting new students including: church/community involvement, written parent testimony, doctrinal/parent agreement, academic records, prior teacher and NCS faculty recommendations, family size, alumni status, sibling enrollment status, NCS employee status, application completeness, family interview, placement testing, classroom space, student conduct and attendance records. Qualified students that remain on the wait list in August may have an opportunity to enroll during the school year should an opening occur. Wait listed applications are not automatically carried over into the following year and must be renewed in January to be placed on the list for “Early Applicants” for a February or March decision. Prior year wait list status does not guarantee enrollment the following year.
